

Fancy a free fishing holiday in Ireland?

There are EIGHT angling holidays for a total of 16 anglers worth £4,000 to be won.

Faillte Ireland's "Lakelands and Inland Waterways Destination" is staging a four-day angling holiday promotion in the north-west of England in February. And part of that campaign includes giving away four angling holidays at local commercial fisheries and the others four at evening supper-nights.

IRELAND remains the top angling holiday destination from the UK. It is a country with an immense wealth of unspoilt waters, free year-round fishing, no rod licences, is easily accessible and passports are not required – that's the message and purpose of the four days promotion starting on Monday February 6.

To find out more, you are welcome to join us for a hot-pot supper, plus a chance to meet and chat with leading representatives of Ireland's angling travel trade, hoteliers, pub owners, B&Bs and self-catering houses. You will be our guest so there are no charges!

And you might win a holiday for two! Every adult will receive a complimentary draw ticket during the evening for a prize that includes the car ferry and five nights bed and full breakfast in an ensuite room. The prize ticket will be drawn that evening.
